

TWO BOYS HURT IN A MOTOR ACCIDENT

Fords Driven By Leonard Carr Of Milroy And Nat Jenkins Of
This City In Crash

LATTER GIVEN THE BLAME

Maurice Cowan Of Milroy Suffers
Wrenched Back And Cecil Wolf
Is Badly Cut

Two automobiles figured in a serious collision a few miles east of Rushville Thursday night about 10:30 o'clock, when a machine driven by Leonard Carr of Milroy was struck by a machine driven by Nat Jenkins, 217 West Sixth street, Rushville.

Both machines were overturned in the ditch, and some of the occupants were badly cut and bruised. Maurice Cowan of Milroy, occupant with Carr and Leland Anderson, was probably the most seriously hurt, and received a wrenched and bruised back and shoulder, but no bones were broken.

This machine was a Ford touring car with a winter closed top, and belonged to Golda Carr, father of the person who was driving it. The three boys were returning from Connersville and they maintain that the other machine, which was a Ford touring car, was going east and crowded them off the road as they smashed into each other.

The car was driven by Nat Jenkins, it was said, and the certificate of title showed that the car belonged to W. L. Morris, rural route 4, Rushville, and no explanation was made concerning how the machine was in charge of the Rushville boys. The Jenkins youth could not be located at this time at noon today. He lives in West Sixth street between Morgan and Harrison streets.

It is said that the machine had six boys in it including Jenkins, Cecil Wolf and Bernard Joyce, all of this city. Wolf was badly cut and bruised, and with Cowan was taken to the Dr. Sexton hospital where their injuries were dressed last night.

Wolf apparently suffered the worst injuries as his head was bandaged up today and he had several marks on his face. He was cut by glass.

Both machines were a wreck as the result of the collision, one of them turning over and rolling several feet from the scene of the accident.

A number of Rushville people returning home from Connersville, where they attended a Ku Klux Klan parade last night, saw the wreckage and the report was circulated today that several of the occupants of the two cars had been seriously hurt, but this proved to be untrue.

The head-on collision occurred on a level stretch of road and the Milroy boys asserted that it could have been avoided if the other machine had remained on the right side of the road.

CLUB WELL REPRESENTED

Kiwanians Attend Inter-City Meeting
At Magnesia Springs

Rushville was well represented at the inter-city meeting of the Kiwanis club of this district, held Thursday at Magnesia Springs, near Brookville, and a total of 167 were registered at the meeting. About twenty members from here attended, and many members were accompanied by their families. A chicken dinner was the feature of the noon-day meal, and several contests were indulged in throughout the day, with horse shoe pitching and baseball games holding the most attention. The clubs represented were Rushville, Richmond, Connersville, Lawrenceburg and Brookville. Baseball teams from Richmond, Connersville and Brookville furnished games.

Governor Myers of Bloomington, executive of this district, was present and addressed the session. Each club also was represented by its president, who made five minute talks. The meeting at Magnesia Springs is an annual event, and grows more popular each year.

INQUIRY CONTINUED BY THE GRAND JURY

Doubtful Whether Investigators Will Complete Inquiry Before Next Week, it is Stated

MANY NEW WITNESSES TODAY

Further investigations were being made by the Rush county grand jury, which was in its third day today, and many new witnesses were summoned before the investigators this morning.

The three day session so far has been crowded with business, judging from the large number of witnesses that have been summoned during the period, and there was some doubt as to whether a report would be made this week. The grand jury also was to decide later today whether to continue their probe Saturday, or recess until early next week.

Witnesses used today were from Rushville mostly, with several others being from the different parts of the county. No intimation was disclosed as to the things under investigation, and the findings of the grand jurors will not be made known until the indictments are returned and the arrests made.

VIOLATION OF OATH TO BE PROSECUTED

Persons Authorized to Administer
Oaths Reported Not To Be Performing Duty Properly

PROVISIONS OF PENAL CODE

With a view of prosecution and dismissal from government service where the offender is a federal employee, investigation is being made by the bureau of internal revenue of reports that persons authorized to administer oaths are not in all cases, performing such duty properly and in accordance with the law.

Section 106 of the United States Penal Code provides a penalty of $500.00 fine or imprisonment for one year, or both, for "whoever, being a public officer or other authorized person by any law of the United States to make or give a certificate or other writing, shall knowingly make and deliver as true such a certificate or writing containing any statement which he knows to be false."

Such misconduct, it is declared by the commissioner of internal revenue, D. H. Blair, in addition to the penalties prescribed by law, will be deemed sufficient reason for requesting the cancellation of the oath-administering authority of any officer guilty of the offense, and in the case of bureau officers, for dismissal from the service.

Tom Taggart Discussed Presidential

STATE BOSS PULLING WIRES

Opinion Is Growing At French Lick
That Moves Are For Purpose
Of Nominating Ralston

By P. E. SCOTT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

French Lick, Ind., June 15.—Opinion is growing here today that wires are being pulled to swing the Democratic presidential nomination to United States Senator Samuel M. Ralston of Indiana and that Governor Alfred L. Smith, of New York—if he has any presidential ambitions, which he denies—will have to sit on the side-lines and be content with a lower position on the ticket, if any at all.

In event he does not land on the ticket, he may be permitted to dictate a wet or damp plank in the platform although democracy throughout the mid-west is not favorably although a plank of any degree of dampness as a whole.

It developed today that the statement by Tom Taggart, political boss of Indiana democratic circles, was discussed with Ralston three days before it was issued. Taggart and Ralston conferred in the Indiana capital city on Monday afternoon.

Taggart is strongly behind Ralston, admits it privately, and has said so publicly to a limited degree. The statement denied Taggart is behind an organized movement for Ralston's candidacy but is generally regarded as camouflage here.

It is believed—and this is June politics a year ahead of the convention—that Taggart is planning to use Ralston as a compromise candidate in the event that the Smith, McAdoo and Underwood booms reach sufficient strength to bring about a deadlock on the convention floor.

Should such a situation materialize, it is thought, Taggart will spring Ralston's name on the convention floor for the first time, and be in position to get away with it.

Taggart's statement, which was worded most diplomatically, was given out at this time and in such diplomatic form to avoid any possible chance of friction between (Continued on Page 6)

Belgrade, June 15.—Ex-premier Stamboulisky has been shot and killed by peasants, a report from Sofia today stated. Stamboulisky's automobile was surrounded and captured and ex-premier shot by a volley, the report stated.

Vienna, June 15.—Seventy thousand peasants loyal to the ex-premier, Stamboulisky, now are engaging Zankof troops in northern Bulgaria, according to Sofia dispatches. The latter are greatly outnumbered.

Athens, June 15.—An unconfirmed report from Sofia that ex-premier Stamboulisky had been captured and taken under strong guard to the Bulgarian capital was received with reserve here today. It is pointed out that the Kankof ministry has issued such reports for three successive days.

London, June 15.—Ex-premier Stamboulisky still is free and in flight, an Exchange Telegraph message direct from Sofia and dated Thursday, states. The newspapers in the Bulgarian capital now under the Zankof regime publish details of an alleged plot by Stamboulisky to force King Boris to abdicate, and for the former peasant premier himself to be crowned king on September 12.

COMPLAINTS ABOUT WEEDS IN THE ROAD

County Highway Superintendent
Says Practice Must Stop If Farmers Want Roads Worked

PILE UP IN FRONT OF DRAG

Hal Green, county highway superintendent, today registered a complaint against farmers throwing dock and other weeds into the roads, which has become a general practice throughout the county, and announced that roads where this condition exists will not be kept in condition.

Dragging the roads strewn with weeds that farmers cut out of the fence corners and along the side of the road, is impossible without first scrapping and raking all of the weeds out of the way of the drag, according to the highway superintendent, who said that one force of men spent almost two hours Thursday cleaning a road before a drag could be used. One road was not dragged on account of the weeds on it being so thick.

Mr. Green pointed out that there is a law against throwing weeds in the road and urged that farmers make them off so that the work of keeping the county highways in condition can go on. The weeds pile up in front of a road drag and make dragging impossible, he says.

COLLAPSES IN EFFORT TO IDENTIFY SLAYER

Mrs. Richard C. Tesmer Overcomes
at Strain of Examining Girls
With Blue Eyes

HAUNTED BY SLAYER'S SMILE

(By United Press)
Chicago, Ill., June 15.—Mrs. Richard C. Tesmer collapsed today when police brought an under-world gun woman before her for identification as the girl bandit who shot Tesmer to death recently during a robbery.

Mrs. Tesmer, who has been in her of examining a score of girls with blue eyes and a smile, declared the latest suspect looked almost like her husband's murderer.

She refused to identify positively the suspect, however. "I cannot say for sure," she declared. Then she became hysterical and is confined to her bed.

An hour previously, Mrs. Tesmer had exonerated a maniacist, arrested in a raid on a north shore apartment. This girl was released.

Mrs. Tesmer, who has been in her room since the shooting, save for a brief time at the funeral, told authorities she is haunted day and night by the smile and blue eyes of the slayer.

Tesmer was shot without warning by the girl bandit who giggled as she pulled the trigger. He was attempting to console Mrs. Tesmer, who protested giving up her wedding ring as demanded by the slayer and her companion.

ASKS TRUSTEES TO MAKE SURVEY

State Fire Marshall Urges Them to Correct Fire Hazards in Buildings
During Summer

GENERAL LETTER IS SENT OUT

Responsibility Rests Jointly on Them as They Are Assistant State Fire
Marshals

Indianapolis, Ind., June 15.—Citing the Cleveland, S. C. disaster in which seventy-six lives were lost and many persons injured in a country school house fire May 17, Newman T. Miller, fire marshal of Indiana, has called on the 1,017 township trustees in Indiana to make a careful survey during the school vacation to ascertain if fire hazards exist in the school buildings and to give immediate attention to correcting any building short in safety requirements.

In a general letter sent to the trustees, each of whom is by virtue of his office an assistant state fire marshal, Mr. Miller urges that fire protection measures be taken during the vacation period.

As township trustee you are the guardian of the taxpayers' property in your township," the letter reads, "and as an assistant state fire marshal you are responsible for safeguarding life from fire. Vacation is here and now the most convenient time to thoroughly inspect all school structures under your care and if repairs or improvements are needed they should be ordered promptly. You and the citizens of your community will agree that it is far better and wiser to invest moderately now in security than to risk tragedy and the heavier expense of replacement later.

We have very recently seen the deplorable result of inadequate safeguards against fire at Cleveland, S. C., where the lives of seventy-six people, forty-one of them children, were snuffed out in the flame that destroyed a crowded rural school house. In an editorial commenting on this affair the Cincinnati Enquirer said:

"The holocaust in South Carolina should serve notice on the public and the nation that eternal vigilance and care continue to be the price of life. The horrible details of this calamity have shocked the country, but they will be forgotten tomorrow! ... These things happen, they happen all too frequently. Many of them could have been averted. Will this one stir the people of the cities and the countryside to greater care and interest in the safety of buildings where people gather? ... Human life is too precious to risk on a chance, to play with, to speculate on. Search out the fire traps, condemn and destroy them, or make them secure, whether they be public or private buildings."

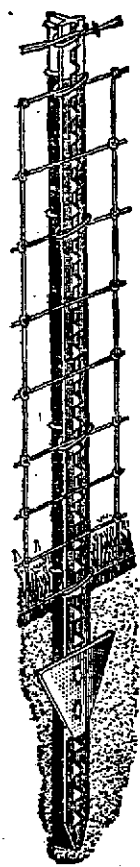

May it never be said that the negligence of any official charged with the enforcement of fire regulations in Indiana was the cause of loss of life. You are an assistant state fire marshal and trustee of your township and great responsibility rests upon you. I am anxious to lend the fullest support and assistance of myself and my department in helping you enforce the laws and in creating thoroughly safe conditions in your jurisdiction, and I shall gladly aid in helping you meet any problem that may arise in the discharge of your fire prevention duties.

SAFETY SAM

"Aint it odd anything like that could happen, with everybody drivin' as careful as they do?" remarked Tib Markle last night, after readin' three people gettin' killed by drivin' their auto smack into a trolley car.

Greater Strength and Longer Life in This NEW FENCE POST

HERE is a new and better steel fence post—the RED TOP Double Strength Studded Tee. No holes to weaken post either above or below the ground—proved stronger than all other posts at all points by severest tests. Fine new finish and sturdier anchor plate. New staple that is stronger and easier to apply.

Cost Less in Fence—Last Longer

This is the type of post all manufacturers have for years been trying to produce, but it was given up as impossible. A RED TOP engineer had to discover a new principle in rolling steel before he could make this Studded Tee. But don't get the idea that it's an expensive post.

This new RED TOP costs less than the better grade of wood posts and lasts longer than most any of them. It actually costs considerably less set in the fence line. It's the greatest value ever offered in a fence post. The Studded Tee is equally good and equally economical for repairing old fences or building new ones.

Come in and see this new RED TOP. You must see it and handle it to appreciate what good a post it really is.

We have a good stock of RED TOPS on hand and can take care of your needs without delay.

LEAGUE'S COURT NOW IN SESSION

Full Panel Of Judges Attend Court Of International Justice, Which President Favors

THREE CASES ON DOCKET

Most Important Is Refusal Of Germany To Permit English Ship To Pass Through Kiel Canal

By HENRY WOOD (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

The Hague, June 15.—The League of Nations' new permanent court of international justice, which President Harding proposes the United States shall join, convened today for its third regular session.

Three cases were on the docket, all of considerable international importance, and all tending to establish the wide scope of work which is steadily coming under the jurisdiction of the new court.

The court convened today with the full panel of judges present except the late Judge Ruy Barbosa of Brazil, whose place will be filled by election of all the states adhering to the court during the September Assembly of the League of Nations.

The panel as at present constituted consists of: Judge James Bassett Moore, America; Judge Albert Amira, Spain; Judge Anzilotti, Italy; Judge Bustamante, Cuba; Judge Viscount Finlay, England; Judge Huber, Switzerland; Judge Loder, Holland; Judge Nyholm, Denmark; Judge Oda, Japan, and Judge Weiss, France.

They represent not only all of the leading countries of the world but all of the leading races and all of the principal legal systems of the world.

The most important case which the court has on the docket for the present session is that relative to the refusal of Germany to permit the English ship "Wimbledon" to pass through the Kiel canal, a right established by the Versailles treaty.

The case is vitally interesting from the point of view that it constitutes the first time that one nation has been haled before the new tribunal by other nations. England, France, Italy, and Japan, as signatories of the Versailles treaty, all joined in summoning Germany before the court for the alleged violation of the treaty.

It was in March, 1921, that Germany refused to let the "Wimbledon," which was laden with war material for Poland, pass through the canal. Germany bases her refusal on the ground that a state of war at that time existed between Poland and Russia and that to have permitted the allied ship laden with war material for Poland to pass through the Kiel canal, would have constituted a violation of Germany's neutrality as regards the Russian-Polish conflict.

Although Germany is not a member of the court, she has been given the same right as all members, namely to have a judge of her own sit in on the court's panel during the hearing of the cases. Professor Walter Schucking has been designated by the German government for this purpose.

The second case on the court's docket also interests Germany, as it has to do with the German minorities in Poland.

Even more important and interesting, however, is the third case on the docket, for it involves Soviet Russia, which is likewise not a member of the court. Similarly it constitutes the first time that outside nations have endeavored to summon the Soviet Republic before the international court of justice.

The case in question involves the treatment which Soviet Russia is now meeting out to the inhabitants of Eastern Carolia.

Losses by Forgery

Henry F. Woods, secretary of the Forgery Prevention Bureau of New York City, addresses a letter to the Daily Republican, commenting on an editorial in the Republican May 9 last regarding the high cost of dishonesty. Mr. Woods compliments the Republican for calling attention to the growing evil due to the depredations of crooks who rely for their success on brain rather than brawn, on cunning rather than courage.

Mr. Woods says that the figures quoted in the Republican editorial were not overstated but, if anything, erred on the side of conservatism. The editorial put the annual forgery losses in this country at $25,000,000 whereas the estimate, this authority says, is $47,000,000 in round numbers.

This total is computed on the basis, accepted generally by bankers as being correct, that for every $8,000 of bank clearings one dollar is lost through frauds on negotiable bank paper. Even the estimate of $47,000,000 check fraud losses is probably conservative, because it is based on the total clearings for 1922 through member banks of the Federal Reserve system only, taking no account of other clearings of which there is no reliable estimate.

The total clearings for 1922 through the member banks of the Federal Reserve system were $375,684,056,014. The forgery losses of New York City alone, as estimated on the one-in-eight basis, were $27,000,000 considerably more than half of the total for the country. Next in order of magnitude of losses were Chicago, $3,504,525; Philadelphia, $2,811,250; and Boston, $2,056,025. The forgery losses of the Seventh (Chicago) Federal Reserve district, which includes Indiana, totalled $4,824,266, computed on total bank clearings of $38,594,136,500 for the district in 1922. Of this large total of losses, the greater share, of course, was borne by the State's metropolis, Indianapolis, where the losses are estimated at $113,860.

All these figures are estimated, to be sure, but they are computed on a scientific basis, the result of experience, Mr. Woods points out, and a close study of the field in this special branch of crime. When it is considered that more than four billion checks are issued annually in the United States for a total of about $40,000,000,000 and that about 95 percent of a total annual business turnover of about $525,000,000,000 in the United States is transacted by checks, the estimated statement of losses through check frauds will not seem exaggerated.

Even accepting as correct the ultra-conservative total of $25,000,000 annual forgery losses, this item constitutes about seven and a half percent of the total of $3,325,000,000 losses through dishonest transactions. The percentage, of course, is just double if the figures quoted as forgery losses are used.

Sixty-three members of the Ball family met at the fair grounds yesterday and enjoyed an old fashioned reunion and picnic. One of the features was the distribution of a genealogy of the Ball family compiled by Lincoln Gary. The ancestors were traced back to the fifteenth century.

Friday evening at the Catholic church hall commencement exercises will be held and a class graduated. Following are the members of the 1908 class, Mary Carroll, Gertrude Laughlin, Marie O'Reilly and Theresa Reardon.

The members of the Poonahontas lodge met last night and organized a social branch that will look to the entertainment of the happy bunch hereafter. The officers chosen for the ensuing six months are Flora Gutwamp, president; Addie Floyd, vice-president; Josephine Webb, secretary and Cornelia Lyons, treasurer.

Mrs. T. G. Green and Mrs. Major Wilson of Shelbyville were here yesterday to attend the Ball reunion. They remained over today and attended the wedding of their brother, A. L. Gary.

Eugene Miller returned home yesterday from Indiana University, where he has been attending school, to spend the summer with his parents.

Misses Pet and May Meredith are in Indianapolis attending the Saengerfest and visiting their sister, Mrs. C. C. Carson.

The marriage of Miss Jessie Spann and Mr. A. L. Gary was solemnized at the home of her sister, Mrs. Douglas Morris, in East Fifth street at high noon today and was marked with simplicity. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. W. Cowling while Miss Jessie Kitchen played Lohengrin's wedding march. Mrs. Kittie Thomas rendered two beautiful solos. Miss Spann was attired in white paris muslin and carried an arm bouquet of bride's roses. Mrs. Erema Slaughter of Chicago was matron of honor and wore a white silk mull dress. They left on the 3:55 train for Cincinnati for a brief honeymoon after which they will be at home in this city.

BACK FOR GAME HERE

Will Try With Rushville After Having Been Rained Out in Previous Attempt

GREENSBURG WILL BE NEXT

The Fortville baseball club is booked for an encounter here Sunday with the Rushville team and the locals will present the same line-up as used last Sunday, although a couple of probable changes are in view for the following Sunday when they begin a series with Greensburg.

The Fortville team is a high priced outfit, and appeared here a few weeks ago, but rain interfered after first inning. Whitehouse, the former association pitcher, is expected to be on the mound for them, and in many games pitched this year, he has been effective.

If Belnke for the Rushville team is in form, the visitors also will face stiff opposition. In the event that Whitehouse doesn't pitch for the Fortville team, it is said that they have another hurler who delivers the goods, and has set back some of the fastest teams in this section.

After the game Sunday, a three game series with Greensburg has been arranged, with the first contest at that city, and the next one here, and the third game will go to the city drawing the largest crowd.

Lack of Boxing Lost Crown

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

Johnny Kilbane lost the world's featherweight championship not so much because he was a "used up old man," but because he was not used enough.

Jack McAuliffe, the retired, undefeated lightweight champion, put this theory in good words when he said Kilbane's case was not the one of the pitcher going to the well once too often, but that of the pitcher who didn't make the trip often enough.

Kilbane passed out from under his crown because he missed with his right hand, not once, but nearly every time he found an opening for it. He had not boxed enough in the last two years to keep up his judgment of distance.

After Kilbane's exhibition, showing the danger of remaining out of action so long, a lot of the wise boys are looking upon Tommy Gibbons as a stronger opponent for Dempsey than he was originally considered. Dempsey had better not miss with his right hand the way Kilbane did.

TAKES MONEY TO RUN A COAL MINE

Dempsey Says He Needs the Dough as His Manager Starts
Out to Collect Second Installment on Purse of $300,000.

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

(Copyright 1923, by United Press)
Great Falls, Mont., June 15—While Jack Kearns made arrangement to collect another $100,000 Jack Dempsey remained in his little roadside training camp on the Missouri river to attend to his end of the business.

"I need the dough, yes I do," the champion explained.

"It takes money to run those coal mines and a couple of other things I got outside the ring."

Dempsey had heard stories circulated that the promoters of his fight with Tommy Gibbons in Shelby July 4 didn't have the money to pay the second installment on the champion's $300,000 purse.

"Doe (Kearns) says it's all right," Dempsey said. "I found out that they had the dough and he usually finds the right dope."

Kearns said he is not only sure of getting the second installment but he had been shown that money is available for final payment 48 hours before the two heavyweights go into the ring.

Dempsey looked somewhat better in his workout yesterday. He seemed faster and more ambitious, but he still missed a lot of punches and he stopped too many of George Godfrey's rights right his jaw. Godfrey was not hitting hard. The champion knocked out Jack Burke, a

If he misses only once it may be fatal for him, and if he misses many times, he is almost sure to be knocked out.

No heavyweight in the business can take the chance of missing Gibbons.

After the second round in Jersey City, when Carpenter cracked him on the jaw with that famous right hand, Dempsey remarked in his corner.

"That's the best he's got and I can take it."

He can't take the best that Gibbons has.

After the fourth round against Kilbane, Criqui told his seconds: "He can't hurt me."

Kilbane could have hurt him, however, and he did hurt him several times, but Kilbane couldn't hit with his full strength. He had lost his judgment of distance and his timing was all off.

Johnny said after the fight that he was afraid of his hands. He was avoiding the possibility of breaking one of his dukes on the head of the Frenchman, but if he had kept himself in fighting form instead of staying out of the ring for two years he would not have been in that danger.

light-heavyweight, and pounded Harry Drake dizzy.

The Score Board

The Athletics moved up within two games of the Yankees when Ruth Walberg pitched Philadelphia to a 4-3 victory over Cleveland. The Yankees dropped a 3-1 game to the Browns because they were unable to hit Pruett in the pinches. Their only run was scored when Ruth was walked with the bases full.

The White Sox stole six bases when they defeated Washington 7-3 in a game characterized by erratic fielding and loose pitching. Harry Heilmann got a home run and two singles while the Tigers beat the Red Sox 4-1.

The Cardinals' used 18 players but lost to the Braves 6-4. Pinelli's double scored Roush with the run, needed by the Reds in the 9th inning to defeat the Giants 6-5.

Four home runs helped the Cubs beat the Dodgers 9-6.

Meadows was wild and the Phils beat the Pirates 2-1 in a listless game.

Winner of British Open Golf Championship Falls Back and Britisher Increases Lead

TWO TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

Troon, June 15—Arthur Havers, British professional, won the 1923 British open golf championship from a field of 88 British and foreign players, that combatted here over seventy-two holes, Thursday and today. The Britisher's score was 395 and was the lowest turned in. He shot three perfect rounds finishing with a 76 this afternoon under unfavorable weather conditions.

Walter Hagen, American, last year's champion, was one stroke behind Havers.

Troon, June 15—Walter Hagen, fighting in the van of American contenders for the British open golf championship, dropped back a stroke in third round play today, and was passed by Joe Kirkwood, the Australian, while Arthur Havers of Britain increased his lead.

C. A. Whitcombe, who was tied for the lead yesterday, took 74 to go around this morning and dropped back to a tie for second place.

The standing was: Havers 219; Kirkwood, 220; Whitcombe 220; Hagen 221; Smith 222.

Hagen, who won the title last year, was one stroke behind Havers overnight but took a 74 this morning while the Britisher was reeling off another of his mechanical par 73's.

Brilliant, record-smashing scores of 69 turned in by Joe Kirkwood and MacDonald Smith, the Californian, were the feature of the morning play.

MacDonald Smith was the first of the leaders to complete his final round, in which he took 75, for a total of 297.

Johnny Farrell and George Ansbach, others of the American team, turned in cards of 75 today which let them out of the running.

MAIN ST. CHRISTIAN CHURCH
SUNDAY EVENING, JUNE 17
BY REV. L. E. BROWN

Mrs. Ora P. John, of Greencastle, Ind., and granddaughter Miss Margaret Woodson, of Indianapolis, are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Poundstone at their home in North Harrison street.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church was held Thursday afternoon in the parlors of the church. Mrs. Ora P. John, of Greencastle, Ind., had charge of devotional exercises. Mrs. John is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Poundstone in this city. Following the devotional meeting a business meeting was held and the following officers were elected for the year: President, Mrs. Charles H. Parson; first vice president, Mrs. E. B. Poundstone; second vice president, Mrs. Manley Pearce; corresponding secretary, Miss Sadie Williams; recording secretary, Mrs. Ray Compton; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. Nora Morgan; treas., Mrs. Clint Bodine; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Wellman.

Among the many pretty social events being given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Canley and children, prior to their leaving the city for their future residence in Kansas City, Mo., were the picnic dinner given for the children Thursday afternoon by Richard Ball and the six o'clock dinner party given by Mrs. Lawrence Geraghty Thursday evening.

Richard Ball was host to the children, Katherine, Ruth, Cosmas, Margaret and Janet Canley, Thursday afternoon when he entertained at his home in North Morgan street with a picnic-dinner party. The children played juvenile games and enjoyed a very delightful afternoon.

In the evening Mrs. Lawrence Geraghty entertained with a prettily appointed dinner party, served at six o'clock. The appointments for the dinner party were very pretty and roses were used for the decorations of the table. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Canley and children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fore and son entertained at their home south of the city Sunday with a family dinner. Those entertained were Mr. and Mrs. O. Burchett, Mrs. Ruth Whitely and daughter Charlotte of Seymour, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Perry Larmore and daughter, John Larmore, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McCauley and family, Mr. and Mrs. George F. Brown and family and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hartwell and family.

Seventeen members of the local chapter of the Tri Kappa sorority attended the province picnic held Thursday at McCoy Lake near Greensburg. Approximately one hundred and thirteen guests were present for the affair, which represented thirteen chapters of the district. At the noon hour a picnic dinner was served and in the afternoon a splendid program was given by a reader from Birmingham, England.

Mrs. Fred R. Beale and three daughters went to Lewisville this afternoon, where the daughters will take part in a dance recital, sponsored by the Misses Schmidt's of Newcastle.

AMUSEMENTS

At The Mystic Today
When Mary Lerner, one of the most popular of American novelists, wrote her story, "Forsaking All Others," she took up one of the greatest of our modern problems in a modern way.

A lot of nonsense has been written about the mystic power of the "flapper" to ensnare men's hearts. As a matter of fact she hasn't a Chinaman's chance beside the covetous married woman.

The clash between the two is the fundamental situation in the Lerner story which Universal has filmed and which is coming to the Mystic Theatre today.

The poignant climax of the play comes when the broken-hearted girl is asked to save the man who left her, from her rival's enraged husband.

Bitterly, she refuses. The surprising climax of the story solves a big problem in dramatic fashion.

There is no actress appearing on the screen today who is more typical of the bubbling-with-life, wholesomely average American girl than Colleen Moore.

Cullen Landis has become known for his characterizations of the type of youth who might be such a girl's brother, or if he were some other girl's brother, as her sweetheart.

Drama Of The South Sea

Erwin Adamson, author of "South of Sava," the latest release of Mary Miles Minter, the Realart star knows the atmosphere and traditions of the South Sea Islands from having worked for five years as assistant general manager of a twelve thousand-acre plantation.

His story, therefore, filmed under his constant supervision, is full of authentic details, which have never been seen in any other South Sea drama.

"South of Sava" is at the Princess today and also will be seen Saturday. The Miami Lucky Seven a jazz orchestra of more than ordinary merit, made its first appearance of a three-day engagement Thursday and attracted large crowds, especially to the night performances. The orchestra shows marked improvement since last appearing in Rushville, some changes having been made in the personnel. Solos, both instrumental and vocal, add to the attractiveness of their programs.

Simple Silk Frock

Simple silk frocks have entree everywhere. They may be of dark silk or light or this season they may be printed, but in any case they are undeniably smart. Notice the slit sleeve buttoned at the wrist and the new crepe. Flat crepe, satin-backed crepe, or any of the novelty crepe weaves is the material to use.

himself and Smith, who is here for a ten day rest.

It would be decidedly bad for Taggart to issue any word which might result in making enemies of friends, and Taggart and Smith are friends, politically and personally.

So far not a single district leader of the democratic party in Indiana has called at the hotel to see Smith. Indiana political writers are interpreting this as indicative of the indifference of Hoosier democracy to Smith's plans or policies.

There will be no political conference today, it developed, as Taggart was leaving early this morning for Indianapolis, where he will join his wife over the week-end and on Sunday observe the forty-sixth anniversary of their marriage. No leaders are due here today, either.

So far there is no indication that Governor Smith will talk to newspapermen, of whom there are about a dozen here. The governor left yesterday posed for a news reel with Taggart, the first time he has broken a rule of no pictures and no interviews since he arrived here.
